The Financial Literacy Initiative is a stakeholders' platform launched by Ministry of Finance in March 2012 and comprises more than 30 public, private and civil society organisations. It is aimed at streamlining and strengthening financial education activities and consumer protection to entrepreneurs and individuals in Namibia.

The purpose of the National Financial Literacy Initiative is to serve as a national platform for delivering education on financial matters, sharing information and experiences on financial literacy activities and consumer protection in order to promote and increase financial inclusion in Namibia.
